

Bill Stanczykiewicz
President and CEO
Indiana Youth Institute

BILL STANCZYKIEWICZ (pronounced: STAN-juh-KEV-ich)

Bill Stanczykiewicz serves as President and CEO of the Indiana Youth Institute, a statewide nonprofit which has become a favorite resource for youth-service providers, government officials and the media across the Hoosier State. The Indiana Youth Institute's success has been acknowledged by the Indiana Achievement Awards, the Indiana Excellence Awards, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, and by the Martin Luther King, Junior, "Living the Legacy" Award.

Bill was personally honored as a "Distinguished Hoosier" by Indiana Governor Frank O'Bannon. His efforts in public administration have included working in the United States Senate and serving in a cabinet level position in the Indianapolis mayor's office. Bill currently is appointed by Governor Mitch Daniels to serve on Indiana's Education Roundtable as well as on the State Workforce Innovation Council, and he was elected to serve on his local school board in Boone County.

Honors and awards have included being listed in "Who's Who in Education" by the Indianapolis Business Journal; being named a "Friend of Education" by the Indiana State Teachers Association; earning national recognition as a "Next Generation Leader" from the Rockefeller Foundation; and being cited as a "High Performer" by Jobs for America's Graduates.

Bill's professional career started in the media where he won the "Indiana Sportscaster of the Year" award. Bill now uses his communication skills to deliver inspiring and informative messages about youth development and academic achievement in local communities like Washington County, Indiana, to national audiences in Washington, D.C. Bill's media appearances have included ABC's Good Morning America, ESPN and numerous local television, radio and newspaper interviews across Indiana.

Bill earned a bachelor's degree in journalism from Northwestern University and a master's degree in public administration from George Mason University; and Bill is an adjunct faculty member at Purdue University in West Lafayette.

Bill enjoys dating his wife, Carmen, as well as boating, fishing, golfing and playing little league with their four children.
